

Citizens Electoral Council of Australia

Postal Address: PO Box 376, Coburg Vic 3058

Phone: 1800 636 432 Fax: 03 9354 0166

Home Page: www.cecaust.com.au Email: cec@cecaust.com.au

Authorised by C. Isherwood, 595 Sydney Road, Coburg, Victoria 3058.
Printed by Citizens Media Group Pty Ltd., 595 Sydney Road, Coburg, Victoria 3058.

Federally Registered Political Party

CEC National Secretary and Federal candidate for Wills, Craig Isherwood, issued the following statement on 29th June.

PM Gillard, take notice: “Sustainable Population” actually means genocide

Kevin Rudd went down in flames for the same reason as Malcolm Turnbull before him—he tried to ram the fraudulent dogma of “climate change” down the throats of an Australian population already angry at the disappearance of their jobs, their houses, their healthcare, and other necessities. Proposing drastic measures to deal with non-existent “anthropogenic global warming” was just one piece of crap too many. So, as in the U.S., where incumbent politicians are falling like tenpins in preselection races because of popular rage at leaders who have done nothing about the deepening global financial collapse but to bail out the banks, the mass-strike process has erupted in Australia as well.

In both cases, the American physical economist and statesman Lyndon LaRouche has helped catalyse the process, as in the Citizens Electoral Council’s hard-hitting campaign against “global warming” which we launched already back in 2007, when a reported 60 per cent of the Australian population still believed in the scam.

While you, Prime Minister Gillard, reportedly had the good sense to convince then-PM Kevin Rudd to dump the ETS in April, you have now apparently adopted the cause for which Prince Philip’s WWF invented “environmentalism” and “climate change” in the first place: “population control”, i.e. the British Crown’s intent to kill off billions of the world’s population. Perhaps you are not aware, but that is also the real meaning behind the term “sustainable population”. In the real world, there is no such thing. Economies, and their populations along with them, either continually increase and expand, or they enter a process of collapse. In fact, the fundamental metric of a healthy economy is a rising potential relative population density—the size of the population which the prevailing level of science and technology could potentially support solely due to the efforts of the relevant nation. If you don’t continually revolutionise your economy through fundamental advances in science, technology and infrastructure, then it will necessarily begin to first shrink, and then to collapse, which physical economist LaRouche has proven beyond any possible doubt.

Add to that, that LaRouche has also been the world’s leading economic forecaster since his first forecast in 1956, and the question becomes, PM Gillard: Will you listen to LaRouche on fundamental matters of economy, or to the lunatics from the Australian Conservation Foundation (ACF) who are leading the charge for “sustainable population”? The same ACF in March made the formal claim to the Ministry of the Environment that “human population growth” is a “key threatening process” to the environment which must therefore be curbed, and the same ACF demanded that Kevin Rudd establish a “Ministry of Population” in the first place.

The founder and longtime president (1971-76) of the ACF, Prince Philip, openly advocates reducing the global population down from its present 6.8 billion to less than 2 billion. In 1961, Prince Philip, British Eugenics Society head

Sir Julian Huxley, and former Nazi SS member Prince Bernhard of the Netherlands co-founded the WWF to make “presently unthinkable ideas thinkable”, in Huxley’s words, given that the Nazis’ death camps had at least temporarily discredited the idea of eugenics. That founding of the WWF is the actual modern origin of the anti-scientific, genocidal doctrine of “sustainable population”, of “population control”, and of similar euphemisms.

In November 2008, PM Gillard, you famously claimed of the global financial crash that “No-one twelve months ago was talking about a global financial crisis.” Contrast your own claim to Mr LaRouche’s forecast of 25th July, 2007—just days before the crash—that under then-current policies the crash was inevitable, and would break out almost immediately. [Watch the first two minutes of the CEC’s DVD, the Homeowners & Bank Protection Bill—The Only Solution, to see that contrast.]

The present British Crown/City of London policies of globalisation, privatisation, free trade, unbridled speculation, and environmentalist lunacy have caused the present, rapidly deepening global crash, in which all investment is systematically sucked out of the actual physical economy into speculation. Then, those same free trading environmentalists tell us that the economy “can’t sustain” more people because no infrastructure has been built, because no new cities have been built, because we are running out of water, etc.—all of which is caused by the very same people.

If Australia is to survive the present global crash, which is intensifying by the minute, then we must dump the twin faces of fascism—globalisation and environmentalism—and return to the “old Labor” policies of National Bank-financed nation building. It is time now, at long last, to finally build a “Big Australia”.

For more on the British oligarchy’s creation of modern “environmentalism” out of their eugenics movement, see p. 4-5 for the flyer the CEC and the LaRouche Youth Movement distributed at “The Inaugural Population Australia 2050 Summit” in Sydney on 28-29 June (PDF).

Citizens Electoral Council of Australia

Postal Address: PO Box 376, Coburg Vic 3058

Phone: 1800 636 432 Fax: 03 9354 0166

Home Page: www.cecaust.com.au Email: cec@cecaust.com.au

Authorised by C. Isherwood, 595 Sydney Road, Coburg, Victoria 3058.
Printed by Citizens Media Group Pty Ltd., 595 Sydney Road, Coburg, Victoria 3058.

Federally Registered Political Party

CEC National Secretary and Federal candidate for Wills, Craig Isherwood, issued the following statement on 29th June.

PM Gillard, take notice: “Sustainable Population” actually means genocide

Kevin Rudd went down in flames for the same reason as Malcolm Turnbull before him—he tried to ram the fraudulent dogma of “climate change” down the throats of an Australian population already angry at the disappearance of their jobs, their houses, their healthcare, and other necessities. Proposing drastic measures to deal with non-existent “anthropogenic global warming” was just one piece of crap too many. So, as in the U.S., where incumbent politicians are falling like tenpins in preselection races because of popular rage at leaders who have done nothing about the deepening global financial collapse but to bail out the banks, the mass-strike process has erupted in Australia as well.

In both cases, the American physical economist and statesman Lyndon LaRouche has helped catalyse the process, as in the Citizens Electoral Council’s hard-hitting campaign against “global warming” which we launched already back in 2007, when a reported 60 per cent of the Australian population still believed in the scam.

While you, Prime Minister Gillard, reportedly had the good sense to convince then-PM Kevin Rudd to dump the ETS in April, you have now apparently adopted the cause for which Prince Philip’s WWF invented “environmentalism” and “climate change” in the first place: “population control”, i.e. the British Crown’s intent to kill off billions of the world’s population. Perhaps you are not aware, but that is also the real meaning behind the term “sustainable population”. In the real world, there is no such thing. Economies, and their populations along with them, either continually increase and expand, or they enter a process of collapse. In fact, the fundamental metric of a healthy economy is a rising potential relative population density—the size of the population which the prevailing level of science and technology could potentially support solely due to the efforts of the relevant nation. If you don’t continually revolutionise your economy through fundamental advances in science, technology and infrastructure, then it will necessarily begin to first shrink, and then to collapse, which physical economist LaRouche has proven beyond any possible doubt.

Add to that, that LaRouche has also been the world’s leading economic forecaster since his first forecast in 1956, and the question becomes, PM Gillard: Will you listen to LaRouche on fundamental matters of economy, or to the lunatics from the Australian Conservation Foundation (ACF) who are leading the charge for “sustainable population”? The same ACF in March made the formal claim to the Ministry of the Environment that “human population growth” is a “key threatening process” to the environment which must therefore be curbed, and the same ACF demanded that Kevin Rudd establish a “Ministry of Population” in the first place.

The founder and longtime president (1971-76) of the ACF, Prince Philip, openly advocates reducing the global population down from its present 6.8 billion to less than 2 billion. In 1961, Prince Philip, British Eugenics Society head

Sir Julian Huxley, and former Nazi SS member Prince Bernhard of the Netherlands co-founded the WWF to make “presently unthinkable ideas thinkable”, in Huxley’s words, given that the Nazis’ death camps had at least temporarily discredited the idea of eugenics. That founding of the WWF is the actual modern origin of the anti-scientific, genocidal doctrine of “sustainable population”, of “population control”, and of similar euphemisms.

In November 2008, PM Gillard, you famously claimed of the global financial crash that “No-one twelve months ago was talking about a global financial crisis.” Contrast your own claim to Mr LaRouche’s forecast of 25th July, 2007—just days before the crash—that under then-current policies the crash was inevitable, and would break out almost immediately. [Watch the first two minutes of the CEC’s DVD, the Homeowners & Bank Protection Bill—The Only Solution, to see that contrast.]

The present British Crown/City of London policies of globalisation, privatisation, free trade, unbridled speculation, and environmentalist lunacy have caused the present, rapidly deepening global crash, in which all investment is systematically sucked out of the actual physical economy into speculation. Then, those same free trading environmentalists tell us that the economy “can’t sustain” more people because no infrastructure has been built, because no new cities have been built, because we are running out of water, etc.—all of which is caused by the very same people.

If Australia is to survive the present global crash, which is intensifying by the minute, then we must dump the twin faces of fascism—globalisation and environmentalism—and return to the “old Labor” policies of National Bank-financed nation building. It is time now, at long last, to finally build a “Big Australia”.

For more on the British oligarchy’s creation of modern “environmentalism” out of their eugenics movement, see p. 4-5 for the flyer the CEC and the LaRouche Youth Movement distributed at “The Inaugural Population Australia 2050 Summit” in Sydney on 28-29 June (PDF).

Rudd falls in global mass-strike; who's next?

One year after Kevin Rudd's infamous outburst, "I regard Mr LaRouche as right off the planet", he's fallen victim to the planet-wide mass-strike that only LaRouche saw coming.

On 30th June, 2009, Rudd had reacted to CEC Queensland Secretary Jan Pukallus asking him why he didn't heed LaRouche's advice on the global economic crisis that his government falsely claimed nobody saw coming.

Of course, LaRouche and the CEC did repeatedly forecast the economic crisis, which since its onset in mid-2007, has driven a growing outrage among the majority of people of every nation, at their respective governments, for betraying their needs, while bailing out the bankers and speculators whose looting collapsed the economy.

That outrage was identified by Lyndon LaRouche in his 1st August international webcast, as a global mass-strike. It has sparked an extraordinary wave of mass protest inside the U.S. against Barack Obama's bailout of Wall Street and his gutting of healthcare, a wave that has claimed many sitting U.S. politicians and threatens to oust Obama himself.

On the unfolding dynamic of the mass-strike, Lyndon LaRouche commented yesterday, "most people do believe in the idea that history is shaped by events. And on the contrary, history shapes events. That's the way it works, and you see this in the process of the mass-strike ..."

In Australia, Rudd led a government which has been madly bailing out banks, all the while, simply denying the crisis that has driven many Australians to the wall, into bankruptcy, mortgage stress and economic helplessness, but crowing of a "recovery" that doesn't exist.

Worse, Rudd tried to change the focus from the very real economic crisis to the faked crisis of global warming, in order to ram through another way for the bankrupt financiers to siphon money from the public, by way of the emissions trading scheme (ETS).

The public turmoil over the ETS is a clear sign of the mass-strike in Australia, and it has now claimed two party leaders—only the media's disinformation campaign is keeping the globally-dead issue of global warming alive in Australia.

Rudd's CEC opponent in Griffith, Jan Pukallus, said today that the mass-strike is still driving Australian politics—the government's change of leader doesn't change its policies, or its disconnect with the people's needs in this economic crisis:

"How long is Gillard going to last?" Jan asked. "Go back and look at what she said on our HBPB DVD—she's lied as much as the rest of them on the economic crisis, and if she sticks with that line, she'll go down like the rest of them."

There is a clear historical precedent for global economic conditions determining politics: The last sitting PM to lose his own seat in an election as John Howard did, was the Tory Stanley Melbourne Bruce in 1929; the last sitting ALP PM to serve only one term after winning an election as Rudd has done, was the man who defeated Bruce—James Scullin. Both Bruce and Scullin were victims of the Great Depression; the fates of Howard and Rudd have been determined by the global economic collapse.

CEC leader Craig Isherwood had a sober response to Julia Gillard's rise to Prime Minister, "Julia Gillard has an historical opportunity to save Australia from economic destruction, but only if she returns

her party to the common good principles of the 'old' Labor Party of John Curtin and Ben Chifley.

"As Ben Chifley said in his famous 1949 Light on the Hill speech, 'I try to think of the Labor movement, not as putting an extra sixpence into somebody's pocket, or making somebody Prime Minister or Premier, but as a movement bringing something better to the people, better standards of living, greater happiness to the mass of the people. We have a great objective—the light on the hill—which we aim to reach by working for the betterment of mankind not only here but anywhere we may give a helping hand. If it were not for that, the Labor movement would not be worth fighting for.'

"Gillard and the ALP will only recapture Chifley's vision, if they join the CEC's fight against the Money Power in the City of London, for national economic sovereignty, on behalf of the people," Mr Isherwood concluded.

Wish me luck,
as you wave me goodbye.
Cheerio, here I go...
BUT POLICIES REMAIN!

www.cecaust.com.au

Rudd falls in global mass-strike; who's next?

One year after Kevin Rudd's infamous outburst, "I regard Mr LaRouche as right off the planet", he's fallen victim to the planet-wide mass-strike that only LaRouche saw coming.

On 30th June, 2009, Rudd had reacted to CEC Queensland Secretary Jan Pukallus asking him why he didn't heed LaRouche's advice on the global economic crisis that his government falsely claimed nobody saw coming.

Of course, LaRouche and the CEC did repeatedly forecast the economic crisis, which since its onset in mid-2007, has driven a growing outrage among the majority of people of every nation, at their respective governments, for betraying their needs, while bailing out the bankers and speculators whose looting collapsed the economy.

That outrage was identified by Lyndon LaRouche in his 1st August international webcast, as a global mass-strike. It has sparked an extraordinary wave of mass protest inside the U.S. against Barack Obama's bailout of Wall Street and his gutting of healthcare, a wave that has claimed many sitting U.S. politicians and threatens to oust Obama himself.

On the unfolding dynamic of the mass-strike, Lyndon LaRouche commented yesterday, "most people do believe in the idea that history is shaped by events. And on the contrary, history shapes events. That's the way it works, and you see this in the process of the mass-strike ..."

In Australia, Rudd led a government which has been madly bailing out banks, all the while, simply denying the crisis that has driven many Australians to the wall, into bankruptcy, mortgage stress and economic helplessness, but crowing of a "recovery" that doesn't exist.

Worse, Rudd tried to change the focus from the very real economic crisis to the faked crisis of global warming, in order to ram through another way for the bankrupt financiers to siphon money from the public, by way of the emissions trading scheme (ETS).

The public turmoil over the ETS is a clear sign of the mass-strike in Australia, and it has now claimed two party leaders—only the media's disinformation campaign is keeping the globally-dead

issue of global warming alive in Australia.

Rudd's CEC opponent in Griffith, Jan Pukallus, said today that the mass-strike is still driving Australian politics—the government's change of leader doesn't change its policies, or its disconnect with the people's needs in this economic crisis:

"How long is Gillard going to last?" Jan asked. "Go back and look at what she said on our HBPB DVD—she's lied as much as the rest of them on the economic crisis, and if she sticks with that line, she'll go down like the rest of them."

There is a clear historical precedent for global economic conditions determining politics: The last sitting PM to lose his own seat in an election as John Howard did, was the Tory Stanley Melbourne Bruce in 1929; the last sitting ALP PM to serve only one term after winning an election as Rudd has done, was the man who defeated Bruce—James Scullin. Both Bruce and Scullin were victims of the Great Depression; the fates of Howard and Rudd have been determined by the global economic collapse.

CEC leader Craig Isherwood had a sober response to Julia Gillard's rise to Prime Minister, "Julia Gillard has an historical opportunity to save Australia from economic destruction, but only if she returns

her party to the common good principles of the 'old' Labor Party of John Curtin and Ben Chifley.

"As Ben Chifley said in his famous 1949 Light on the Hill speech, 'I try to think of the Labor movement, not as putting an extra sixpence into somebody's pocket, or making somebody Prime Minister or Premier, but as a movement bringing something better to the people, better standards of living, greater happiness to the mass of the people. We have a great objective—the light on the hill—which we aim to reach by working for the betterment of mankind not only here but anywhere we may give a helping hand. If it were not for that, the Labor movement would not be worth fighting for.'

"Gillard and the ALP will only recapture Chifley's vision, if they join the CEC's fight against the Money Power in the City of London, for national economic sovereignty, on behalf of the people," Mr Isherwood concluded.

Wish me luck,
as you wave me goodbye.
Cheerio, here I go...
BUT POLICIES REMAIN!

www.cecaust.com.au

To compare the CEC's record to that of the growing chorus of leaders, including PM Julia Gillard, who claim that nobody could have seen this crisis coming.

ORDER DVD

For a copy of our feature DVD Homeowners and Bank Protection Bill: The Only Solution, one-hour documentary, call toll-free 1800 636 432 or send this coupon to: CEC, PO Box 376, Coburg, Victoria, 3058 and leave ALL your details. Price: $10.00 + P&H $2.50

Name: _____
Address: _____
Phone: _____
Email: _____

JOIN OUR EMAIL LIST AT www.cecaust.com.au

To compare the CEC's record to that of the growing chorus of leaders, including PM Julia Gillard, who claim that nobody could have seen this crisis coming.

ORDER DVD

For a copy of our feature DVD Homeowners and Bank Protection Bill: The Only Solution, one-hour documentary, call toll-free 1800 636 432 or send this coupon to: CEC, PO Box 376, Coburg, Victoria, 3058 and leave ALL your details. Price: $10.00 + P&H $2.50

Name: _____
Address: _____
Phone: _____
Email: _____

JOIN OUR EMAIL LIST AT www.cecaust.com.au