LaRouche: Remember Iraq! Stop Iran attack, nuclear WWII

German political leader Helga Zepp-LaRouche, the wife of U.S. statesman Lyndon LaRouche, has warned that the world could be at war within weeks unless nations and citizens reject the rehashed neo-con WMD lies pushed by British stooge Barack Obama, the British, French and Israelis to justify an attack on Iran which could trigger a nuclear world war.

The just-released International Atomic Energy Agency (IAEA) report alleging Iran is pushing ahead with a nuclear weapons program, to which allegations the Iranian government had already responded with a 117-page detailed refutation, has been prepared as the green light for a rogue Israeli strike by one of the neo-con architects of the Iraq war; Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu, which will trigger an Iranian counterstrike, followed by a U.S. response, and then a showdown with Russia and China.

The "intelligence" cited by Obama at his G-20 press conference in Cannes amounts to the same rubbish WMD claims used in the build-up to the Iraq war; down to satellite photos purportedly of steel containers to be used for nuclear weapons tests, a rehash of the mobile weapons labs in Iraq that turned out to be empty containers. On 5th November, Iran's Foreign Minister Ali Akbar Salehi told reporters in Tehran that the IAEA "intelligence" on Iran's program was a "fabrication": "The Americans raised documents like this in the past: the Niger scandal," Salehi said, referring to the bogus claims that Niger had provided yellowcake uranium to Saddam Hussein.

Even a former Israeli Mossad chief, Ephraim Halevy, declared that Iran is far from being an existential threat and that an attack would endanger the entire region. "Ultra-Orthodox radicalization [among Jews] poses a bigger threat than [Iranian President] Ahmadinejad," he said, according to Ynet on 5th November; the website of the Israeli daily Yedioth Ahronoth.

Obama's role in this war-charge is more confirmation of Lyndon LaRouche's charge that he is a British stooge, a Nero-like narcissist in love with his reflection in his teleprompter who was installed as president through a public relations con funded by British agent George Soros, the money bags behind the fake political movements GetUp! MoveOn and Avaaz and the bogus Twitter and Facebook revolutions in Eastern Europe and the Middle East. The American people were duped into thinking they were voting for the opposite of the psychopath George Bush; instead they got much worse—a maniac who pleasures in murdering U.S. citizens with drones.

Preparations for an Iran strike have been under way in secrecy: war criminal Tony Blair, the fabricator of the WMD lies regurgitated by George W. Bush and his Secretary of State Gen. Colin Powell in 2002-3, met Obama in the U.S. two weeks ago; British Chief of Defence Staff Gen. David Richards visited Israel last week, which was followed by a visit by Israeli Defence Minister Ehud Barak to London. (Powell has since called his adoption of British claims that Saddam Hussein possessed WMD, "the worst mistake of my life.")

Contrary to his public announcements, Obama has not pulled troops out of Iraq and Afghanistan, but has kept a huge U.S. military presence in the Middle East: 30,000 troops in Iraq, 20,000 in the Gulf States, 100,000 troops in Afghanistan, three nuclear aircraft carriers, one in the eastern Mediterranean and two in the Indian Ocean, accompanied by flotillas of destroyers and frigates all equipped with modern air defence systems and within striking distance of Iran. The 2nd November London Guardian reported that the British military is already planning for an attack. [<http://www.guardian.co.uk/world/2011/nov/02/uk-military-iran-attack-nuclear>]

(Australians should especially note the purpose of Obama's visit next week, which is to open a multimillion dollar "pre-positioning" base next to Robertson Barracks on the outskirts of Darwin, to store equipment for military operations in Asia.)

Russian Foreign Minister Sergei Lavrov told reporters at a press conference in Moscow on 8th November that an Israeli strike against Iran's nuclear program "would be a grave mistake, fraught with unpredictable consequences". The consequences were spelled out in a business publication, www.abc.net.au, from the central Asian republic of Azerbaijan, which borders Iran: "In the case of realization of such a plan, the world can stand on the brink of nuclear war. In Syria [which lies on the route of an Israeli air strike of Iran and would be a target too], there is a Russian naval base, and Russian specialists work at the Bushehr nuclear power plant. How modern Russia acts in case of murder of its peacekeepers and citizens the world learned in August 2008 in Georgia. Russian military doctrine permits the use of nuclear weapons even against countries not having it." (Emphasis added.)

Furthermore, Iran and Pakistan were official observers at the 7th November Shanghai Cooperation Organisation (SCO) heads of government meeting in St. Petersburg, where Russian Prime Minister Vladimir Putin met with Chinese Premier Wen Jiabao. Iran, Pakistan and India have applied for full membership of the SCO, a strategic alliance which represents the majority of the world's population.

Russia and China are already staunchly opposed to a strike on Iran—if it goes ahead, the U.S., Britain, France, and Israel, supported by perennial cannon-fodder Australia, will provoke a conflict with this power bloc, which is the intention.

"The situation is escalating towards World War III very quickly if we don't turn this around," Helga LaRouche warned on 7th November, adding, "and one way of turning it around is to make sure that the full scope of the strategic confrontation which is unfolding is getting clearly through to people."

What you can do:

1. Forward this report to everyone you know, including everyone in your address book, your state and federal MPs, church and community leaders. The lying news media helped organise the Iraq war, so take responsibility yourself to spread the truth to stop a repeat with much worse consequences.

2. Join the CEC.

Cheney Plots New 9/11, Nuclear War vs. Iran

The neo-conservative...
Cheney's Spoon-Benders Pushing Nuclear Armageddon

Abu Ghraib, Satanists, And Spoon-Benders

When U.S. Vice President Dick Cheney led a neo-con plot to attack Iran in 2005, it was the CEC who first blew the whistle, in our September 2005 New Citizen. The fact that Barack Obama is taking up where Cheney, a true sociopath, left off, underscores LaRouche's charge that he is a Nero-like maniac.

LaRouche: Brits and their puppet Obama plan WWIII in Middle East

U.S. statesman and physical economist Lyndon LaRouche spoke over the din of panic and turmoil surrounding the Greek and Eurozone debt crisis on 31st October to emphatically warn that the British-controlled stooge Barack Obama, the British government itself, and Sarkozy of France—the troika who illegally murdered Libya's Qaddafi—intend to launch an attack on Southwest Asia [the Middle East] to unleash WWIII.

The British Crown/City of London-centred leadership of the collapsing trans-Atlantic financial system will not allow Asia to keep functioning economically while the West disintegrates, LaRouche declared, likening the situation in the Middle East to the Balkans at the turn of the last century, which Britain's Edward VII manipulated and destabilised to organise WWI to arrest the economic rise of Germany and the transcontinental railway development across Europe and Russia, which threatened to eclipse Britain's sea power-based Empire.

(Greek Prime Minister Papandreou's dramatic backdown overnight from his decision to put the latest bailout package to a democratic referendum, under excruciating pressure from the Eurozone leaders and the G-20, including Australian PM Julia Gillard, on behalf of the City of London, shows that when financial push comes to shove, their commitment to democracy is a complete sham, and what is now reigning in Europe and spreading worldwide is fascism, the stepping stone to war.)

Following is a transcript of LaRouche's elaborated analysis during a discussion with colleagues on 1st November:

"[W]hat's in process now, is a commitment to go to World War III", LaRouche said. "And this is not guesswork on my part; this is certainty, based on the factors which are in the situation. For example, some idiots would like to presume that the intention, following ... Libya, is going to mean, maybe they'll ... bring down Syria, and bring down Iran. That would appear to be the thing, but that's not the intention. Oh, they do intend to crush these two countries, Syria and Iran; that's on the agenda. But there's no idea that this is a limited operation, or, 'only eventually', will they get around to other targets ... [I]t is going to be worse, much worse, than most people in the United States would even want to believe!

"First of all, you have a massive force, of even alone, U.S. forces: Remember, the operation here is basically based on the United States, Britain, and France. These are the key military forces there. We have a tremendous amount, one-third of the U.S. forces, which are large, are in the Mediterranean. Two-thirds are outside, in the Indian Ocean, ready to attack, especially Iran. This involves massive ground forces; it involves massive submarine deployment of a special kind; air combat capabilities, and naval capabilities, and they're surrounding this area which I've called the 'New Balkans', which is the southwest corner of Asia, which is now the New Balkan cockpit."

LaRouche explained the economic context: "So this is a very large force, poised in an area. ... This is not going to be two targets. It's going to be a massive attack on Asia. Look at the consideration: You have, in the trans-Atlantic area, you have a number of nations, Europe and the Americas, and except for Argentina, they're all in bad [economic] shape ... So you have a crash, a decline of one part of the world, the trans-Atlantic part of the world is crashing! By the way, you're living in it, in case you didn't know it. This thing is rotting, it's dying. But Asia, typified by Eurasia, Russia, China, and India, and other countries, are not crashing, yet.

Obama is being used by the British to repeat in the Middle East what Edward VII orchestrated in the Balkans to launch WWI.

"So now you have a war that's planned, and an operation is planned—the [financial] bailout continues—an operation that means that the entire trans-Atlantic sector of the world is now crashing, into oblivion! Into economic oblivion. The Asia side, however, typified by the Eurasian side—Russia, China and India—is not crashing. It's not in the best of shape, but it's not crashing. Now, you are going to suggest to me, that the British Empire, with these a*holes who work as United States' people, and Western Europe, are going to sit there, and destroy themselves, while Asia, in the form of Eurasia, China, India, and so forth, are going to live, not so merrily, but in relative prosperity? You think that the British Empire, with its stooges, is going to do that? Don't be dumb!"

He continued, "Now, they're going on to another operation: They've got a tremendous force, deposed in an area, for an attack on Asia! Including all kinds of nuclear weapons ... This is a full-scale commitment, to an attack on the entire Eurasian continent, especially the Asian side. And it's a military operation, with a full panoply of every kind of weapon for general warfare [and] nuclear warfare! Essentially, a nuclear warfare capability, with all components: Submarines, various kinds of ships, a vast accumulation of U.S. troops in that whole region, with auxiliaries tied in? You're looking at World War III, and nothing less than that.

"Unless," LaRouche said, "something is done to jam the works up."

Responding to LaRouche's warning, Citizens Electoral Council leader Craig Isherwood stated, "When Lyndon LaRouche warns of WWIII, everybody had better pay attention. LaRouche was the only economist to accurately forecast the current economic crisis, and in January 2001 he was the lone voice warning that the George W. Bush administration would use terrorism to enact crisis management policies to impose a fascist police-state and war, which is exactly what happened, and which are the same policies that Obama has continued, in a criminal betrayal of the promises he falsely made to the American people."

He concluded, "LaRouche's warning is the first act in jamming up the works. To fight with LaRouche to derail this war drive, before we witness an Iraq-style runaway escalation based on lies and the launch of an attack, join the CEC."
